Conditions

- We have made this site available for the purpose of enabling students and other customers to pay fees and other amounts due to the College.
- You warrant that in using the online payment facility you are authorised to use the debit or credit card for the payment or payments you are making.
- International Visa & MasterCard cardholders may be able to pay in their local currency, depending on the payment service used, and if made available by the card issuer. If a dynamic currency conversion (DCC) facility is available, the conversion rate will be notified to the cardholder at the point of sale.
- Where the DCC option is not available or not chosen, payment will be made in £ Sterling and, if using an international card, the cardholder will rely on the conversion rate determined by the card issuer. The cardholder will be liable for any currency conversion costs or other charges that may be incurred in making the payment and these shall not be deductible from any fees, charges or costs due to Kellogg College.
- Kellogg College will not be responsible if a payment is either refused or declined by the card issuer for any reason. If the card issuer declines payment the College is under no obligation to bring this fact to the cardholder's attention or the student/customer's attention.
- Payment by card using the online facility does not on its own indicate the existence of a contract, or constitute an agreement between the cardholder and the College, or the student/customer and the College, for the provision of the services. A contract will only come into being when separate conditions for the provision of a service have been fulfilled.
