The impact of your support

We are extremely grateful for all gifts bestowed to Kellogg and we'd like to take this opportunity to thank you for being part of the 1990 Club and giving regularly to the College.

Your gift is making a difference to students' lives. It is thanks to your generosity that we can continue to provide an enriching Kellogg experience. Your support enables us to move forward with projects that matter most to Kellogg's future – and highlights the connection, kindness and solidarity that exists between our alumni and current students.

Thank you for your continued support.

Your impact

Since the launch of the 1990 Club in September 2020, regular giving has increased by 27%, which means we can help more of our students who are most in need – and enhance the College’s environment for the benefit of our community and the planet.

It’s thanks to your support that over the past 12 months we’ve been able to supplement the student hardship fund – and complete our drive in replacing every light bulb across the College with environmentally friendly LED bulbs.

Senior Tutor, Dr Yasmin Kahn, shares the impact your support has had on the student hardship fund: “We recognise that sometimes financial situations change for our students due to unforeseen circumstances. College hardship funding for financial emergencies after the start of a course can be a very important intervention.

“Amounts range from £300 to £1,000 and we aim to be responsive – the forms are not lengthy and there is light administration – which means that money can be granted fairly quickly; this year, with the added complications of Covid, an increased number of students have faced unexpected costs or suffered a loss of income.

“As a College, we aren’t able to support major shortfalls or to make up the cost of University fees, but often a small intervention can make a big difference and help a student complete their studies successfully, alleviating financial anxiety. Among other things, this year the hardship fund has been used to cover the unexpected cost of a flight to visit sick relatives, to replace a broken laptop when there were no funds available to supply a new one, and cover the cost of food and short term accommodation while a student was waiting for new housing.

“On behalf of the College, thank you to the 1990 Club for giving to this fund.”

Dr Sandie Byrne is our Sustainability Fellow and Chair of Kellogg’s Sustainability Committee: “Donors to Kellogg are enabling our College to lead the way in environmental sustainability. Our second Gold in the Green Impact awards acknowledges our efforts to reduce consumption and waste, and to use environmentally sensitive materials.

“Your help in replacing less environmentally sensitive lighting with LED bulbs throughout College buildings has made a significant impact to our environmental goals. We’re also looking at phasing-out bleached white napkins in favour of unbleached and recycled ones, and offering more sustainable menus than ever in the dining hall, including a vegan option at each meal.

“During the summer, Kellogg took part in the University’s biodiversity survey and purchased a fixed pump to further encourage students and staff to cycle to College. We have developed a sustainability policy that will enable us to work towards lowering our carbon footprint and to be mindful of the environment in all our endeavours. Our strategy includes appointing a number of student sustainability ambassadors to help us with this.

“Sustainable materials and equipment may require a larger initial outlay than more damaging kinds, but this is an expense that is repaid in protecting our environment, and often in long-term costs.

“We are extremely grateful to those whose generosity makes it possible for our actions not to cost the Earth.”

The power of giving

Did you know...

Four donors giving

£40 per month

would enable us to appoint a student sustainability ambassador for one year.

19 donors giving

£50 per month

would enable us to double our hardship fund grants for one year.

Three donors giving

£70 per month

for a year would enable us to replace one of our Victorian single-glazed windows for a heritage, double-glazed window.

One donor giving

£75 per month

would pay for a research support grant for a student for one year.

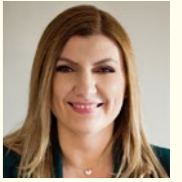

I am blown away by the generosity of the hardship committee. Please pass on my gratitude. This will be such a relief to my stress levels.

This student received a £500 hardship fund grant and went onto complete their course successfully.

My support of Kellogg College stems from the knowledge I gained while there, not only the education but the sense of value and values it offers students. Kellogg does more than raise your game. It gives you the tools to go beyond where you thought you could reach.

Despina Panayiotou Theodosiou

In Kellogg, the University of Oxford has a unique, forward thinking College in its midst that I am proud to be an alumnus of. I donate regularly through the 1990 Club in the hope that fellow Kelloggians can benefit and therefore establish a long lasting association with the College.

Nitin Parmar

As a lifelong learner, I respect and admire the mission of Kellogg and have made a commitment to regular giving to assist the College in meeting its objectives. Regular giving to the College is a way of saying, Thank you! Carry on!

Edward Raupp

I greatly enjoyed my time at Kellogg pursuing my Master's degree at Oxford University and I'm delighted to be part of the College's annual giving. I hope that my small gesture will benefit future students so that they can enjoy their studies as much as I did."
