Kellogg was established in 1990 with a mission to make graduate study more open and accessible. It offered part-time study options that were more compatible with career progression outside academia, and recognised the personal commitments of family life.

This simple concept was groundbreaking at the time, but is now part of the fabric of the University of Oxford. Kellogg continues to innovate, and is committed to making lifelong learning available for the professional and personal development of its students, and the betterment of society.

With people ranging from their 20s to 70s and beyond, members of College represent around 100 nationalities and form an egalitarian and inclusive community, which is perhaps the friendliest and most distinctive in Oxford. Kellogg College is now home to over 1400 students and has over 100 Fellows of various categories – and it continues to grow. Students are admitted from some 200 courses across the University.
Our roots lie in the University of Oxford’s outreach activities, and especially to its commitment to lifelong learning. During the 1980s, a group of academics in the University’s Department for Continuing Education came together to work towards the establishment of a new College at Oxford.

A College which was designed to offer fellowship to senior members of the University who had a particular involvement in the University’s lifelong learning and outreach activities, and one that would also be a College for part-time students should part-time degrees become a reality. With funding from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation (WKKF 2020 Annual Report), the College was established. It was in 1992 that the College matriculated its first Master’s students reading for the degree of MSc in Educational Studies.

After a lengthy search for suitable premises, the College secured a four-acre site in a prime location in Norham Manor to which it moved in 2006. The Norham Manor Estate was developed in the second half of the nineteenth century and the Kellogg site contains a number of the original villas set within spacious gardens. Most of them are listed as buildings of special architectural or historical interest and the whole campus is included in the first conservation area designated by Oxford City Council in 1968.

In its short life, Kellogg College has celebrated the graduation of thousands of students, most of whom would not have had the opportunity to study at Oxford had it not been for the University’s decision that postgraduate students would be permitted to study for certain degrees on a part-time basis. Part-time degree study is now firmly embedded and accepted at the University of Oxford and Kellogg is proud of the role it played in bringing that about.
Our mission, vision and values

Mission
Kellogg’s mission is to welcome and support part-time and full-time graduate students, promoting the University’s work in lifelong learning, and delivering the best possible Oxford experience for students.

Vision
Our vision is to strengthen the positive impact the University has locally, regionally, nationally and globally, bringing together full-time and part-time students within the College, thereby enriching the pool of intellectual talent attracted to study and research in Oxford.

Values
We value openness, innovation and social relevance, promoting knowledge exchange and research impact. Kellogg is an inclusive and egalitarian intellectual community, learning and researching across the disciplines. We are flexible and responsive, and give our members a voice in shaping the future of the college.

Kellogg aspires to formal independence as a separate charity with a Royal Charter.

Below is a list of training courses you will need to complete as soon as possible after you start at Kellogg. Please take a read through the links at the end.

Equality and Diversity Briefing
This course introduces you to what equality and diversity mean and why they are so important both to the University and to you as an individual. It provides an overview of the legislation, your rights and responsibilities, and guidelines for ensuring that equality and diversity are embedded in your work. Open course here

Implicit Bias
This course introduces the topic of implicit bias in the workplace. It is for all members of staff across the collegiate University. You will understand implicit bias and where it comes from, how it impacts people around you in the workplace and what you can do to minimise the negative consequences. Open course here

Information Security
This module will get you up to speed on what you need to do to keep University (and your own) data safe. It has been created for self-study and can be completed at any time and pace. The module needs to be completed by all University Staff each year. Open course here

Display Screen Equipment (DSE) Assessments
This site is designed to provide an understanding of the risks associated with your display screen equipment and to enable you to conduct an assessment of your own workstation. Open course here

Working from home
Being able to work from home enables us to configure our working day to accommodate the various demands on our time and energy while making the most of our periods of peak productivity, but it also brings with it a series of challenges around communication, collaboration and engagement. This course sets out what home workers can do to make sure that they stay healthy, happy and productive while remaining connected to their organisation and able to reap all the benefits that homeworking has to offer. Open course here

Training courses/guidance for new line managers
Developing Leadership Skills
A team leader or manager needs to be an effective decision-maker, communicator, mentor, motivator and coach. Managers are responsible for driving and sustaining performance, both of their team as a whole and the individuals within it, as well as looking after their professional development. New leaders can find the competing demands of their role particularly daunting and the transition from team member to team leader can be a challenging one. Using a series of dramatised scenarios around a newly promoted team leader, this course introduces new and established managers alike to the skills they need to lead and inspire their team successfully. Open course here

Health and safety at Kellogg

Jason King, Mel Parrott and Gary Walker are the College’s Health and Safety Officers. This means they are responsible for ensuring College grounds are up to standard to keep the College Members safe. Mel and Jason both review and sign off on all risk assessments (personal and college wide). If you require a personal risk assessment, your line manager is required to write and submit the assessment to Jason and Mel for it to be reviewed and then approved. Where necessary the Human Resources and Occupational Health teams should be consulted prior to your line manager writing the draft Risk Assessment.

Display Screen Equipment (DSE) – when you start, you should seek to complete a DSE Assessment to ensure you are sat correctly at your desk, this in turn will reduce RSI or other job related injuries. Your line manager will need to request this with the Facilities Office.

Health and Safety Induction – an induction to Health and Safety is to be done once you have started. Your line manager should request this with the Facilities office. The induction will cover where the Fire exits are, meeting point in case of a fire, when the fire alarm testing happens, the buildings that make up Kellogg College and their layout, location of first aid information, and general security arrangements that are in place.

Occupational health for physical and mental wellbeing

University of Oxford Occupational Health is in place to ensure continuous care is provided Oxford University’s students and staff. The Occupational Health Service delivers services that support the University’s polices in regards to the prevention of ill health and the promotion of health and wellbeing. OH have a self-referral service so you can refer yourself for an appointment, or your line manager can do a referral for you (management referral). If you have further questions about how Occupational Health can support you in the workplace, please do get in touch with the HR Officer. https://occupationalhealth.admin.ox.ac.uk/occupational-health-services
Annual leave process

The number of working days paid Annual Leave to which you are entitled in each leave year is 38 per year comprised of:

- 24 days of personal leave
- Closure days (to be taken at pre-determined dates as advised by the University, 1 the Thursday before Easter and then around Christmas break). For further details, please visit https://hr.admin.ox.ac.uk/fixed-closure-dates
- 8 bank holidays

For staff with less than a years’ service, and part-time staff, the amount of annual leave allowed will be calculated on a pro-rata basis. Annual Leave accrual begins from the first day of your employment.

Annual Leave is to be taken at times approved in advance by your line manager (who will not unreasonably withhold consent) and in line with any restrictions laid out in your contract of employment. The normal leave year runs from 1 January to 31 December. A maximum of 5 days unused Annual Leave may be carried forward into the new leave year, at the discretion of your line manager.

Catering staff will be required to take part of their Annual Leave entitlement during kitchen closure days, depending on the requirements of the College. The kitchen closure is dependent on external factors (for example, lunch bookings until the end of July) and will be communicated to you by the Head of Catering and Events.

Requesting annual leave

All annual leave requests must be made using TeamSeer. Staff should submit their annual leave request and have it approved by their Line Manager before making any firm holiday arrangements. Annual Leave requests will only be considered if they are approved on TeamSeer and will be allocated fairly within teams ensuring that operational efficiency and minimum staffing levels are maintained throughout the year.

The minimum notice normally required for Annual Leave, is at least two weeks’ notice of intention to take Annual Leave of more than 3 consecutive days, and one week’s notice for odd single days. Any staff member requiring annual leave in an emergency should discuss the matter with their line manager at their earliest opportunity.

Your line manager may decline the request for Annual leave. For Example, if the request leaves the department short staffed, or is during a business-critical time then the request may be rejected.
Annual leave entitlement on leaving

Leaving the employment of the College and the University, is the only time when any untaken Annual Leave may be paid. If you have not taken your full Annual Leave entitlement at the time you leave, you will be paid accrued Annual Leave pay calculated in proportion to the period already worked during the leave year less the value of any days of Annual Leave already taken.

For example; you work from January 1st to May 31st. You will have accrued 16.5 days annual leave. 5 of these days will be used by bank holidays, so you will have 11.5 days personal allowance for the period 1st January – 31st May.

If you have taken more than your full Annual Leave entitlement at the time that you leave, calculated in proportion to the period already worked during the leave year, then the College will deduct an appropriate sum from your final payment. Using the example above, by the time your employment ended, you had taken 3 weeks annual leave (15 days), a deduction of 3.5 days would be taken from your final payment.

Annual leave entitlement for part-time workers

Annual Leave entitlement for part-time workers is pro-rata to that of full-time workers, including pro-rata time off in lieu for bank holidays, according to the number of hours and days of the week worked.

Additional annual leave for long service

Please visit https://hr.admin.ox.ac.uk/long-service leave for more information. Your long service allowance will automatically enter into TeamSeer at the start of the year’s annual leave.
Staff sickness absence process guidance

The below information outlines what steps you should take if you need to be absent from work due to illness.

1. If you are unable to attend work due to illness, you (or someone on your behalf) must notify your line manager, by telephone on the first day of your absence, no later than one hour after you are due to start work. If it is not convenient to phone, a note/email written on the first day of absence should be sent.

2. Your line manager will register you as on sickness absence in TeamSeer* https://www.teamseer.com/dashboard

3. Keep your line manager up to date with a return to work. Where possible, please inform them the day before if you do not think you will be able to attend work.

4. Upon your return to work, you will need to log into TeamSeer to complete the return-to-work form. The link can be found in the absence notification email that was received on the first day of your absence. Once completed, your line manager will review and sign off.

Sickness Absence from work for up to seven days (inclusive of weekends and bank-holidays) can be self certified.

Sickness absence for more than 7 days

- If you are absent from work for more than 7 days due to sickness, you should obtain a Fit Note from your GP – a copy of this should be sent to your department and Human Resources as soon as possible, but no later than the nineth day. Failure to do so may result in salary payments being stopped, as well as disciplinary action under section 4.1 of the Staff Handbook. Guidance on fit notes can be found here: https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/the-fit-note-a-guide-for-patients-and-employees/the-fit-note-guidance-for-patients-and-employees

- Continue to send Fit Notes until your GP/doctor decides you are fit to return to work.

If necessary, an occupational health referral will be completed to support you in your return to work and ensure any required adjustments are put in place. The Occupational Health report may need to be conducted prior to your return to work – please speak to Human Resources where required.

Sickness during annual leave

If you are taken ill whilst on annual leave, or a fixed-closure day which is deducted from the annual leave allowance set out in your contract, arrangements will apply under which, provided you satisfy the department by production of a self-certification form or doctor’s certificate (Fit Note), you will be able to take the balance of your annual holiday (but excluding any allowance for sickness on days of public holiday or fixed closure days which are in addition to the annual leave allowance) a later date after you return to work.

The normal reporting requirements still apply when you are taken ill whilst on annual leave.

Time off for medical appointments

Reasonable time off will be given for medical appointments. While not always possible, you should try to book appointments at the start or end of the day. Reasonable time off would be 1 hour total, inclusive of the appointment and travel time. You should notify your manager and then add the Medical appointment to TeamSeer using the Yellow Misc option.

*This should not be registered by yourself, someone else should always register you absent if you are sick.
The below information outlines what steps you should take if you need to be absent from work for reasons other than annual leave or sickness.

Bereavement
If you have suffered a bereavement, you should notify your line manager and HR. HR will be able to confirm how many days you will be eligible to take, and these should be booked off by using TeamSeer https://www.teamseer.com/dashboard. If you require extended time away from work, for example, where long-distance travel is required, you should discuss your requirements with your Departmental Administrator or Head of Department, or, where this is the agreed arrangement within the department, with your line manager. Additional leave, which will normally be unpaid or taken as annual leave, may be granted at the discretion of the Head of Department or Departmental Administrator.

Planned absence
All known absences should be requested using TeamSeer in advance of the time off.

Unplanned absence
If you have an unplanned absence, you must inform your line manager as soon as possible on the first day, and provide a reason for the absence.

Maternity leave
All pregnant employees are entitled to 52 weeks’ statutory maternity leave. It is up to the individual employee to decide how much of this entitlement she wishes to take but the law requires that a minimum of two weeks’ leave must be taken immediately following the birth of the child. This is known as compulsory maternity leave.

You should notify your department and Human Resources as soon as possible of your pregnancy so that appropriate actions and risk assessments can take place.

Paternity leave
Paternity leave is an entitlement to time off that may be taken by the biological father or the mother’s partner (regardless of gender or marital status) following the birth or adoption of their child. Paternity leave is intended to support parents in the early stages of a child’s life/adoption.

All eligible employees may be able to take one or two weeks’ paternity leave which may be available at full pay. Paternity leave must be taken in the first 56 days following the birth or adoption of a child.

You should notify your department and Human Resources as soon as possible of your intent to take Paternity Leave so that appropriate actions can be taken.

Time off for dependants
In every case, save in the case of an emergency occurring overnight, or at the weekend, you must apply in advance to your Departmental Administrator or to the person to whom you would normally report sickness absence. You should not leave your place of work without having obtained permission from that person, or from your head of department or administrator.

As in the case of sickness absence, if you are prevented from attending at your place of work due to an emergency you should inform the appropriate person of the reason for the absence as soon as possible on the first day of absence.
Time off in lieu (TOIL) policy

Time off in lieu (TOIL) is time off which staff are allowed to take for hours worked beyond the normal working day. For staff on University contracts, the standard number of hours in the working week is 36.5 for those on grades 1 – 5 and 37.5 for those on grades 6 – 10. Time off in Lieu is in place for when departments need extra cover or support during busy times or to support with events.

TOIL applies to additional periods of work either before or after the normal working day. It does not apply to lunch periods.

Principles governing the use of TOIL:

- TOIL may only be accumulated within a plan agreed with your line manager, with any additional hours that need to be worked agreed in advance. Administrative staff who need to stay late to finish off routine work will not be given TOIL unless they are working on a specific project which requires the commitment of additional hours. If this agreement is not in place, then the additional hours will not qualify for the accrual of TOIL and will be lost.

- Working additional hours is voluntary.

- Additional hours should be sporadic and only required for a limited period of time only (e.g. for a specific project or short notice cover for a gap in establishment) – if it is for a period longer than a month then line managers should review the overall staffing needs for the department to ensure working practices are effective.

- Staff will receive appropriate breaks during additional work in order to comply with the Health and Safety procedures set in place as well as regulation.

- Time off accumulated through TOIL arrangements must be equal to time actually worked.

- TOIL should be taken as soon as practicably possible after it has been accrued. If this is not possible it must be taken within 2 months of accrual. TOIL accrued and not redeemed as outlined will be considered lost and no monetary compensation will be offered.

- Managers should ensure that employees are given reasonable opportunities to take any accrued TOIL within the approved period.

- The operation of TOIL depends on mutual trust. Any suspected abuse of TOIL will be treated as a disciplinary matter.

- TOIL shall not be carried to the next leave year/next period.

TOIL management

While accrual of TOIL is managed within teams, use of TOIL earned that exceeds 2 hours should be entered into TeamSeer, and approved by the line manager.

TOIL entitlement on leaving

All TOIL accrued should be taken before leaving employment. TOIL will not be paid when you leave University Employment.
Confidentiality
A very short introduction

While it would be easy to write a book on this subject, this very short introduction will explain how we understand and use confidentiality at Kellogg College.

The reason confidentiality became an issue in recent years was because people discovered that personal information had been used with little regard or thought for the person. Many of us will have had an experience where something personal has been shared without our permission leaving us feeling at best, let down, and at worst, exploited. Here at Kellogg College we want to underline our respect for you as a student and any information, personal or otherwise, which you give us.

We wish to be as clear as we can about how confidentiality works. Any information given to a fellow, College officer, College advisor or a fellow student with responsibility within the College may need to be shared with the Dean, Senior Tutor, Bursar or Academic Registrar, especially if this information puts the individual or other people at risk. The sole reason for this is to support any student going through complex or difficult circumstances as far as we can. We do know that it is always difficult to ask for help, or that sometimes our concerns result in ‘tunnel vision’ and we fail to see what support is available, although we ‘ask’ for this help by our ‘acting out’ behaviours.

For example, if a student told their College advisor that they thought they were being harassed by another student (in the same or a different College) or staff member or academic, it would be in their best interests for their advisor to share some of this with the Dean or Senior Tutor. This would likely result in a further meeting but it could ensure that such harassment stops and allows the student to resume studying and enjoying their time at Oxford supported and enabled by Kellogg College.

On the other hand, if a student tells someone they are upset because they have split up with a boyfriend/girlfriend, it is unlikely this would be shared any further unless they started harassing or stalking them.

Another example, suppose a student finds it increasingly difficult to sleep, becomes dominated by negative thoughts, is unable to work and as a consequence is seen by their College advisor who becomes concerned that the student may be depressed. Their advisor could share their concerns with a fellow or the Dean – that have some knowledge of mental health issues – with the intention of getting appropriate help or support. This help could be to get the student to see their G.P., talk to their academic department or tutor on the student’s behalf, or support the student in accessing the professional help available at the University Counselling Service.

Members of the College staff are not subject to confidentiality in the same way. As employees of the College they have a responsibility to the College and so would normally be expected to share any concerns with their line manager. In a small College this is likely to be the Bursar or Academic Administrator. As a College we have a responsibility for their well-being, as well as yours, and that includes supporting them if they are concerned about particular issues.

For example, suppose a student under the influence of some liquid or other substance were to say something to a staff member on reception. If the member of staff felt there was an issue of risk to that person or to others they could inform their line-manager. It is usually helpful to tell the person the action they are taking. If this were to result in the student being abusive in any way this would be an issue for the Dean to deal with.

Finally the Dean, Senior Tutor, Bursar or Academic Registrar meet from time to time (not necessarily as a group) to consider the overall life of the College and concerns may be raised or information shared that results in further support or actions being taken.

For reasons of confidentiality the examples used are composite examples of things that have happened in the past. If you are concerned at all about any aspect of confidentiality, please speak to your line manager.

OxBikes
This is a new rental scheme set up by Students at Oxford University. With Oxbikes you can easily rent a bike 24/7 on their online platform from the very many convenient college depots for entirety of Michaelmas for only £33.99, or all three terms for just £89.99 – including a d-lock! There is a base at Kellogg College that you can collect the bike from. Further information on the scheme can be found at https://bykeltd.co.uk/

CoSy
CoSy is our course booking system, and it contains e-learning courses and in person training opportunities. To log in, you will need your Single Sign On https://skills.it.ox.ac.uk/cosy

Work+Family Space
A University benefit for all employees that offers access to emergency back-up childcare and adult care, a ‘speak to an expert’ phone line and a wide range of guides and webinars. For further information, please visit the Work + Family Space webpage https://hr.admin.ox.ac.uk/my-family-care

Occupational Health
The University’s Occupational Health Service is a specialist branch of medicine that focuses on the health and wellbeing of employees in the workplace, offering a range of services to the University and its employees. If you would like to discuss this service further or would like support making a referral, please speak to Kellogg’s HR Team https://occupationalhealth.admin.ox.ac.uk/referral-service

People and organisational development (POD)
POD contributes to people development strategy across the University. The unit enables individuals to take charge of their own development through self-directed learning. They offer a series of training courses. For further information about POD and what they do, please visit https://pod.admin.ox.ac.uk/
Sustainability at Kellogg
Kellogg College is taking action against global warming and climate change, as well as facilitating behavioural change among staff, students, fellows and members of the College. We are proud to say we achieved a NUS Green Impact Bronze Award in 2018, Gold Awards in 2019 and 2020, and a Beyond Gold Award in 2021. Please take a read through the Sustainability Policy https://www.kellogg.ox.ac.uk/wp-content/uploads/2022/10/Kellogg-College-Sustainability-Policy-Final.pdf and see further information here https://www.kellogg.ox.ac.uk/explore/sustainability-and-kellogg/
